50 ALREADY HERE FOR PASTORS' MEET

OTHERS ARE EXPECTED; CONFERENCE OPENS WITH PUBLIC MEETING TUESDAY.

Fifty pastors have already arrived in Moorhead, and a number of others are expected to arrive during the day to attend the annual Northern Minnesota Pastoral conference which opened Tuesday night in Trinity Lutheran church here, and continues through Thursday. Dr. L. W. Boe, president of St. Olaf college, Northfield, came today, and will be guest speaker at several of the sessions. The Northern Minnesota district includes the larger part of Minnesota, south as far as St. Cloud, all of eastern Minnesota, and reaching into Wisconsin. The district extends to the west as far as the North Dakota and South Dakota boundaries.

The conference deals primarily with inspirational and business aspects of the Lutheran church and presents a study of various phases of the work of the pastor.

The opening session Tuesday night, was open to the public and Rev. J. B. Sheveland, pastor of the First Lutheran church, Duluth and Rev. Emil Salvesson of Rothsay were in charge of the service. At 2:15 p. m. today, Dr. Boe spoke on the "Proposed Reorganization of Our Church." At 5 p. m. today, a fellowship banquet is scheduled to be served in the parlors of the church, with Dr. J. N. Brown, president of Concordia college as toastmaster, and Dr. Boe as speaker. His topic will be "Hitlerism in Germany."

The meeting at 8 p. m. today is open to the public. There will be communion services and a confessional address by Rev. F. A. Schotz, pastor of Trinity church. Rev. Emil Salvesson will also speak and the pastoral sermon will be given by Rev. John Linnevoel of Glenwood.

socialism. He didn't learn it in Russia, but in Italy. And there is no question but that Mussolini is lifting the Italian people out of the mess they were in and is accomplishing things our own administration has been unable to do.

"You would be surprised at the change that has taken place in Germany. All of a sudden they have swept the country clean. There is not a single rotten magazine to be found. All the queer cuts have been disbanded. Over there they don't conduct a nice little senate investigation to find out how some of the millionaires 'swiped' their millions, then let them go with their money, but they take the money for the public good and put the guilty ones in concentration camps. The younger generation has said to the older generation go on' and as a result they are going to have a more just society."

Dr. Boe said he "came back from Europe feeling that America need not go the way of the older countries," and pointed to the efforts of the present administration.

"While we all may not agree with some of the things that are being done, we should set aside our petty differences, and stand together to work out our destiny."

ILLINOIS ENDORSES DEMOCRAT REGIME

17 OF 18 INCUMBENT CONGRESSMEN RENOMINATED BY VOTERS IN PRIMARY.

Chicago, April 11 (UP)—President Roosevelt's recovery program and administrative policies apparently were given the overwhelming support of voters in the Illinois primaries yesterday. It was the first time a large section of the American people had the opportunity of passing on the new deal.

Approval of the recovery program, a principal issue of the campaign, was seen in the renomination of 17 of the 18 incumbent democratic congressmen. The party "slate" made a clean sweep.

On the basis of tabulations from approximately one-third of the precinct, in the state the democrats appeared to have polled a majority of the popular vote for the first time in an Illinois primary. The ratio was about 3 to 2.

Returns from 2,225 precincts out of 7,361 showed 215,993 democratic and 132,045 republican votes. In Chicago, which cast approximately half the state total, democratic candidates polled nearly twice as many as republicans.

Speaker Henry T. Rainey won renomination in the 20th district over James H. (High Heels) Kirby, Kirby's sobriquet was derived from a bill he once introduced in the state legislature to bar high heels for women's shoes. Rainey led by a ratio of 5 to 1 on the basis of incomplete returns.

Rev. Archie Crouch To Go To California: Rev. Archie Crouch expects to leave the first of next week for California where he will be permanently located. He has also been affiliated with the Church of the United Brotherhood, Dilworth, and the Congregational church at Glyndon.

The Moorhead Young People's group will sponsor a social affair for him this evening in the church parlors, and he will be entertained Thursday evening at Dilworth and Friday night at Glyndon.

PROBE DEATH OF MYSTERY WOMAN

BODY FOUND IN FARMER'S FIELD NEAR MINNEAPOLIS TWO MONTHS LATER.

Minneapolis, April 11 (UP)—Post mortem examination today failed to reveal causes for the death of a woman, tentatively identified as Mrs. Ethel Wandersee of Minneapolis, found two months after she died in a farmer's field near here. In the woman's purse were found $18 and an envelope bearing the address of 3520 Marion avenue, Memphis, Tenn. Another letter addressed to Fred Wandersee of Minneapolis and signed by Mrs. Ethel Wandersee also was found with the body late Tuesday.

The county coroner said death may have resulted from natural causes. No signs of violence were found.

Former Clay Resident Dies In Minneapolis: Word of the death of Charles A. Johnson, 69, resident in the Hawley community more than 25 years, which occurred in a Minneapolis hospital, has been received here.

Johnson farmed many years in Cromwell township, and in 1927 moved to Detroit Lakes where he resided till last fall. He moved then to Minneapolis to make his home with his daughter, Miss Esther Johnson. He is also survived by two other daughters, Mrs. Olga Carlson, Minneapolis and Eva Johnson of Bemidji. His wife passed away 31 years ago.

Child, 2, Falls Five Stories; He'll Live: New York, April 11 (UP)—John MacCarone, 2, who fell five stories from a tenement fire escape, was given "a very good chance to live" today. A clothesline on the fourth floor broke his fall, deflecting his body so that it fell against a mattress hanging over the railing of the fire escape on the second floor.

Baby Girl Victim Dies of Exposure In Stable

Continued from Page 1: tended school as usual. The discovery came yesterday after children playing in front of the stable heard feeble moans. They found the child by crawling through a broken skylight. They held excited conferences between them, but it was not until the Rogalski boy came to the stable and ordered them away that they reported their find to the police.

They helped police find the boy and it was their direct accusations in the police station which broke down the boy's defiance.

The ever mounting numbers of policemen, doctors and other grownups pressed him as he sat on a police station bench for repetitions of his story which he had told over and over all night long. His only sleep was snatched on the same bench. Wan and occasionally defiant, the boy did not know that "Doe," as she called herself, was dead. He kept his head bowed and sought to explain the occurrence for the grownups who were unable to understand him.

"I'm Sorry" "I'm sorry about it. I'll never do it again," he answered each time they asked him "why?"

The boy talked freely enough when asked for an account of the events of three days during which Dorette's disappearance touched off a widespread hunt.

"I saw her on the way home from church," he said. "She was playing with a couple of little boys about four. I told her to come with me and I would show her a lot of nickels and candy."

"I did it once before—with a different little girl. I took her up in the loft and undressed her to look. That's all I did was look. After-while I heard a noise and I sneaked out and ran away. I got in trouble the other time, you see. "I would have been back sooner only there was a lot of work around the house."

When asked why he didn't bring the girl some food and take her home, he said:

"I was scared from before. They would have missed the food at the house and I would have to tell them. I'm sorry. I was scared to see if she was there Monday. I was sent to the store Tuesday and I heard a moan. I went up there and she was shivering and dirty. I guess she was cold. I heard some boys and got scared. I climbed down and told the boys to 'scram.' They were little kids.

The boys that George had chased away came back. They were Walter Ciesielski, 11, and Henry Koda, 10. They too had heard the moans. They climbed to the broken skylight of the stables building and saw the child.

Juvenile authorities moved to assume George's care.
