U. S. WHEAT PLAN MAY BE REVERSED

EXISTING MACHINERY FOR SUBSIDIZED EXPORTS MAY BE ALLOWED TO IDLE

(Copyright, 1934, by United Press) Washington, June 2 (UP)—Ravages of drought, dust storms, and insect pests today suggested reversal of the government's wheat export policy and reduction in the wheat processing tax.

Less than two months ago agricultural experts were seeking new methods of shipping wheat abroad to relieve surplus pressure. There was even talk of petitioning for an increase in the 90,000,000 bushel quota allowed the United States by the international wheat agreement.

Now, however, existing machinery for subsidized exports may be permitted to idle, an informed official indicated. Plans to apply to other regions methods used by the North Pacific Emergency Export association have been put aside.

CONCORDIA OPENS GRADUATION FETE

Pageant, concert tonight; baccalaureate is Sunday; commencement Monday

A pageant by the Lutheran Daughters of the Reformation and an open air concert by the college band will be features tonight of commencement activities at Concordia college. They are open to the public.

Previous to the evening presentations the new Minnesota Zeta chapter of the Pi Kappa Delta forensic fraternity will hold a banquet in Fargo.

Sunday at 11 a. m. in Trinity Lutheran church, the baccalaureate service will be held, with Dr. Carl Weswig, of Luther Theological seminary, St. Paul, as the speaker. Among other events Sunday open to the public will be an open house in Ladies' hall, vesper services in the college chapel, and a program by the college Luther League and choir in the chapel in the evening.

Monday morning Rev. N. Astrup Larson, acting president of the Iowa district of the Norwegian Lutheran church, will deliver the commencement address at exercises in the chapel.

The festivities of commencement opened last night with the presentation of all-college play, "Sun-Up," in the chapel last night. Members of various service clubs were guests at the performance. The play, which was under direction of Mrs. Norma Gooden Ostby, featured Hazel Dale, Moorhead, in the leading role as Miss Cagle.

The changing wheat picture is demonstrated by these facts: April 1 the agriculture department predicted that nearly 492,000,000 bushels of winter wheat would be harvested. As drought and hot wind burned 1,000,000 bushels daily from the powdery soil the estimate dropped to 461,000,000 bushels May 10 and has since informally been revised to 440,000,000 bushels.

NATURE AIDS IN CUTTING WHEAT

TREATENS RUIN TO FARMERS, STARVATION TO POOR, IN MANY COMMUNITIES

(Copyright, 1934, by United Press) London, June 2 (UP)—Nature, with a grim efficiency that threatened ruin to farmers and starvation to the poor in many countries, aided the wheat restriction plans of world statesmen today.

Drought, burning summer suns and insect plagues have united with devastating floods to solve what economists once called one of the gravest obstacles to world recovery, the accumulated wheat surplus. Statisticians whittled down their calculation of this year's crops while farmers surveyed withered or water-eroded fields and consumers in impoverished areas faced malnutrition.

An immediate effect was announced last night that bread prices were doubled. To offset hardship to the poor, the government simultaneously decreed a wage increase for low paid workers.
